How Does Financial Aid Work?

- Financial Aid is money you can use to fund your education
- You apply by completing a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)
- Today we will provide you an estimate of what you might be eligible for

- Grants: Federal Pell Grant, and state grant programs
- Scholarships: Institutional Scholarships, Outside Scholarships
- Veteran's Benefits: Many of our programs are eligible to receive VA Benefits, we simply need a Certificate of Eligibility to determine what you qualify for
- Campus Based Funding: Federal Supplemental Opportunity Grant, and Federal Work Study

Types of Funding

- Direct Subsidized Loan: No interest accrues while in school, no credit check needed, low interest rate, flexible repayment options
- Direct Unsubsidized Loan: Interest does accrue while in school, no credit check needed, low interest rate, flexible repayment options
- PLUS Loan: A federal loan option for parents of dependent students, low fixed interest rates, credit based

Types of Funding

Types of Funding

- Student Contribution: You can make payments with savings, assistance from family members, Employer Reimbursement, agencies
- Institutional Loans: no credit check needed, loan repayment begins while in school, affordable repayment terms
